MATT AND TREY: YOU ARE BILLIONAIRES!

STOP PAYING YOUR WORKERS LIKE CRAP!

HOW TO HELP

- Matt Stone and Trey Parker own and operate the Casa Bonita theme restaurant in Denver. The restaurant's star attraction is its live entertainment: cliff divers, actors, magicians, puppeteers and more.

- These performers unionized with Actors' Equity Association in search of safer and fairer working conditions. Just like their peers at Book of Mormon do, they want to work on an Equity union contract.

- The performers are top-tier athletes and entertainers, but Matt and Trey pay them less than the food servers and bartenders (who deserve every penny they make).

- Bargaining has been a nightmare. After over a year at the table, management has offered a laughable 50 cents per hour wage increase, and they have disrespected these workers throughout the process.

- Parker and Stone are billionaires who invested a sh*t ton of money in renovating Casa Bonita. Now, they need to invest in the entertainers who are the main draw for the crowds.
